Once upon a time there was a national organization which decided to enlarge its business quarters in a thriving community. Weeks of time elapsed before the day arrived for the "grand opening." After all the hard work had been completed, the merchandise correlated and the flowers placed in position an "over-lord" from the city who hadn't exerted an ounce of energy arrived to do the "display" work. His importance reached the point where even the business manager couldn't get into the office. In the extension of the business a large addition to the clerical force was necessary. During the changes in the store and the addition to the clerical force the new clerks didn't know who was the manager. One of them thought he was a customer. However, the place is normal again.

I left a 650-word order on R. Carson Smith's desk for consideration on his return from vacation. If he responds the reply will appear in this column. He has had his vacation, so on the theory that one good turn deserves another, I am trying to get him to turn my way and assist in the preparation of some copy which I may be able to use during a proposed rest period.

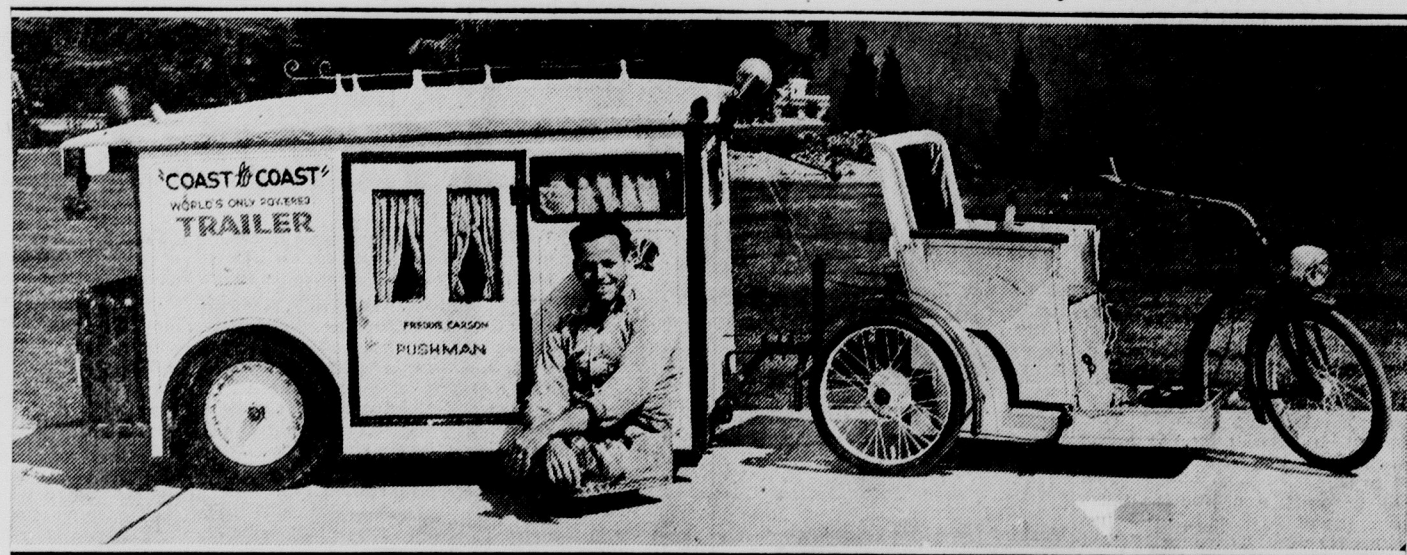

The oil industry is not a new one in America. A searcher for the Times-Herald, Olean, N. Y., says the first discovery goes to Father Joseph de la Roche d'Aillon, who, in 1627, found the famous Seneca oil spring near Cuba Lake, but it was known to the Indians long before that time. Commercially, however, it goes to Colonel Drake. Washington found oil while he was still a young surveyor. Interest in this industry has never lagged. Orange county is one example of its great value.

Newspapers report that my friend, Jess Elliott, has become the beneficiary of a $10,000 gift. That's a comfortable sum. If it came my way I wouldn't refuse it. And I am sure that it was bestowed upon a worthy beneficiary. During almost every man's life there comes a time when he entertains a hope that some one will put him on the complimentary list, and almost as often he is disappointed. Usually gifts come from unexpected sources. I've quit expecting.

In the accumulating years we acquire age and lose our friendships. In the places which knew us once we are forgotten. The human current flows by without even a murmur of recognition. Where we were once prominent, time draws the curtain of obscurity. Only in the sight of Him does the sparrow receive homage of equality. In a funeral parlor at Orange a few days ago rested the body of a sweet little old lady who for seven years had been a patient in a local hospital. No one called to see her. The love and compassion she received was from the staff. The loved ones of other days were either gone or had forgotten. Coroner Abbey arranged for the good minister to pronounce the spiritual benedictions for this good woman who in days beyond recall ministered to kin and kind. There was no earthly pang when this sweet little soul winged its way to heights unknown, but she was received on high with the joy and welcome in which she placed her faith. Time has a habit of obliterating much of our prominence, and often imposes a complete eclipse. If it were not for the Heavenly Observation many of us would be entirely forgotten.

I have made a mutual arrangement with Johnny Lamb to for-

1000 TO GET JOBS HERE IN CAMPAIGN

A thousand jobs will open up in Orange county when the Holly Sugar company factory south of Santa Ana starts its annual campaign Sept. 4. J. Strodtloff of the sugar plant told The Journal today that the date for the opening of the factory has been set definitely. He estimated that the local campaign this year will last for about 60 days, about a normal run in recent years.

Expansion of sugar beet growing in Imperial valley will result in doubling the season for workers in this county, according to Charles W. Stoker, field representative for the Holly company.

Jobs for 500 more men than have been given work before in the sugar beets will be made available.

Ordinarily the sugar beet campaign here lasts around three months, in August, September and October. Plantings to be put in the Imperial valley district will double the time of the run at the local factory. The Imperial beets will be processed locally in April, May and June, plantings being made in October and November.

Stokers said the Holly and Los Alamitos Sugar companies are making an effort to get 6000 acres of sugar beets planted in Imperial valley this year.

Forty men are employed the year around in the local factory. During the campaign more than a thousand are given work in factory and field. Through the new program the number of factory workers will be doubled. Test plot beets planted in Imperial will be run here this year, as well as beets from Lancaster, San Diego and Los Angeles counties.

Fighting Fisher Catches Shark—Plus $5 Tackle

Discovered—a man who threatens to put an end to all fish stories.

A story is going the rounds in Newport Beach fishing circles concerning Ross Reynolds of Los Angeles and his mighty feat in the angling field. Reynolds achieved the ultimate in angling here this week. He caught more fish, almost, than he could carry, and also went home richer financially than when he left.

Reynolds was fishing with an old-fashioned mackerel pole. He had been fishing for some time, without success, when he felt a mighty surge on his pole. He tugged and hauled for some time without results. His pole snapped

His Trailer Will Push Car-Chair

By KENNETH ADAMS

You can lose your legs and still travel far and see plenty things, if you use your head and hands. Freddie Carson, Santa Ana's 28-year-old newsboy, has proved this before and will do so again Saturday when he sets out on a little jaunt in his wheel chair auto that will take him through 48 states of the union.

Freddie will travel this time in fine style, using his new motor-powered trailer, the only thing of its kind in these United States. With the help of some friendly machinists and mechanics, Freddie has worked for the past eight months on his motorized trailer, which will follow his "automobile-chair."

Now it's ready to really take out on a long journey, after having proved to be a success in trial trips made around Orange county. Freddie probably will leave Saturday for his vagabond tour, which he says will take him through all the states of the union and back to San Francisco in 1939 in time for the exposition.

His trailer is something at which to marvel. It was made especially for Freddie, who lost the use of legs when he fell from a tree about

BOY DROWNS IN H. B. SURF

Jesse Juniga, 16-year-old La Habra Mexican boy, was reported drowned in the surf immediately east of the Huntington Beach city limit late yesterday afternoon. Companions reported he was shoulder-deep in the water when a huge wave engulfed him.

Huntington Beach lifeguards, led by Chief Bud Higgins, rushed to the scene and searched the area for more than two hours without recovering the body. Young Juniga had come to the beach with a party of La Habra Mexicans, who reported the drowning to beach authorities.

RACE TO BEAT DEATH LOST

Newport Beach and Monrovia police raced death over Orange and Los Angeles county highways last night, but it was Mrs. Ernest N. Hillaker, well-known Monrovia woman, died on an operating table there.

Suffering from results of an operation, Mrs. Hillaker was in immediate need of a blood transfusion. She was known to Newport officers located J. E. Richardson of Newport, whose blood was acceptable for the transfusion. A police car and Officer Smith roared away, picked up the blood donor and made a record dash to Monrovia.

Mrs. Hillaker died on the operating table shortly after their arrival.

LAST MINUTE RUSH GRIPS CONGRESS

Three important measures were speeded by congress in Washington today as the session rushed toward its close. They are:

1. The senate passes the Wheeler-Johnson child labor bill.
2. The senate passes the administration's tax avoidance bill.
3. The house passes the low cost housing program.

CHILD LABOR BILL GETS SENATE OK

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate passed the Wheeler-Johnson child labor bill by unanimous consent today and sent it to the house as the session rushed toward its close.

The measure would prohibit interstate commerce in goods made by children under 16 years of age, and in the case of hazardous industries under 18.

The same language was incorporated in the wage and hour bill which passed the senate, but the senate passed the separate measure today when Chairman Wheeler (D., Mont.) suggested that action might result in approval of that part of the wage-hour measure at this session of congress.

The wage-hour bill has been shelved since session in June. Besides prohibiting shipment of child labor goods in interstate commerce, the Wheeler-Johnson bill would prohibit shipment of such goods into any state in violation of its laws.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

I never could understand why family ties ain't as strong in the city as they are in the country. Every day you pick up a paper and you read where some city person is ruin' member of his family for some thin' or other. They use the law to fight their own flesh and blood. Down home the members of a family will stick up for each other in spite of the law.

It's like the time down home when Uncle Hod was out fishin' with Grandpa Snelson. They were sittin' on the bank, just pullin' in the fish in one after the other, when they looked up and saw the game warden comin'. Uncle Hod jumped up and started to run through the woods with the game warden at his heels.

After they'd been runnin' about five miles the game warden caught up with Uncle Hod and says, "Show me your fishin' license." Uncle Hod took his license out and the game warden looked at it and said, "Well, what in the world were you runnin' for? You've got a license!" and Uncle Hod says, "Yes, but I was runnin' to give grandpa a chance to get away—he ain't got none!"

Beetle Plague Hits Skyscraper Corn Harvest

NEW YORK. (AP)—Manhattan's skyscraper farmers, fighting an invasion of Japanese beetles, have new sympathy for their grasshopper-plagued brethren in the west.

The tiny beetles have created swift havoc in carefully-tended penthouse gardens where New Yorkers, nostalgic for the soil, grow everything from petunias to beans and tobacco plants.

In the Bronx where the air is clearer and the buildings lower, apartment house farmers considered an appeal for government aid. Heavy infestation there had reduced the average yield to one ear of corn per window box.

JAPANESE TROOPS BEATEN BACK AT SHANGHAI

Powers Seek Truce Between Fighters

SHANGHAI. (AP)—United States authorities today firmly rejected both Japanese and Chinese attempts to interfere with movements of American naval or merchant craft on the Whangpoo river, avenue of escape for Americans or others seeking to flee from embattled Shanghai.

American officials indicated they would refuse to accept a Chinese government notification, compliance with which would mean moving the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, out of Shanghai harbor.

A Japanese naval attempt to restrict traffic on the river met with a decisive message from Clarence E. Gauss, United States consul general, that traffic between Shanghai and the sea must be absolutely unimpeded.

U. S. GETS SUPPORT

Other foreign consuls were understood to have made the same reply to a notification from Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Kasegawa, commander in Chief of Japanese naval forces here, of a desire to impose limitations on traffic on the Whangpoo, along which the most bitter fighting of the Sino-Japanese conflict has raged for days.

The Nanking foreign office notified representatives of foreign powers that unless they moved their naval vessels now in Shanghai harbor five miles away from any Japanese men-o-war or compelled the latter to move such a distance away China could not be responsible for the consequences.

United States officials indicated that this would mean moving the Augusta and other American vessels entirely away from Shanghai, which could not be done while these ships were needed to protect the evacuation of American nationals down the Whangpoo and protect Americans ashore.

British and French authorities were understood to have taken the same attitude.

JAPANESE DRIVEN BACK

Masses of Chinese infantry struck hard at the heart of Japanese shore positions in Eastern Shanghai late today and forced the enemy lines back almost to the Whangpoo river.

The Chinese drive came just as vanguards of a Japanese army from the homeland were reaching the Shanghai war zone. It threatened to cut off the city.

GROVE AT SAN JUAN SOLD

Another Orange county citrus ranch changed hands today in the latest development of a boom in sale of citrus property in this county during the past two weeks.

Completion of the deal today resulted in transfer of ownership of 11 acres of Valencia orange property from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forster, prominent Capistrano growers, to Mrs. Blanche Robertson, Capistrano, and her son, Boyd Robertson.

The sale involved $16,500, it was announced.

The 11 acres is planted to Valencia trees which are about four years old. The property is located in Capistrano on the Ortega highway.

LISBON BREAKS WITH CZECHS

LISBON. (AP)—The authoritarian Portuguese government announced formally today it had severed diplomatic relations with the Republic of Czechoslovakia over an unfilled order of machine guns.

At the same time Portugal accused Czechoslovakia of yielding to the "influences and pressure" of an unidentified "third party" in blocking fulfillment of the arms order.

The newspaper Diario De Noticias promptly declared, in interpretation of the move, that Czechoslovakia had received "instructions from an eastern power not to supply arms to a country which was a sure guarantee against a Communist Iberian peninsula."

Portugal, governed by a fascist-inclined premier, Dr. Antonio De Oliveira Salazar, lies at the backdoor of the Spanish territory controlled by Francisco Franco.

Let the Rats Take the City!

Let the rats run wild in Santa Ana! Let them swarm through the business district unrestrained!

Let them overrun Santa Ana homes, stealing food and bearing pestilence!

Uncle Sam doesn't care any more. Uncle Sam has deserted the city of Santa Ana in its war on the rodents. The rats can have this community as far as Uncle Sam is concerned!

Uncle Sam has grown tired of playing Pied Piper. UP TO SANTA ANA

For many months he has been helping the city stamp out the menace of voracious rats which destroy valuable property and spread the menace of disease at every step. But Uncle Sam has quit.

It's up to Santa Ana alone, now.

Councilman Plummer Bruns informed the rest of the council last night that Uncle Sam has lost interest in the fight. He said he had investigated and discovered that government officials at Washington have refused to approve continuance of a project under which the war on rats has been waged.

PRIVATE PROPERTY

Refusal to approve continuance of the project was based on the tenet that rat hunters and poisoners kill rats on private property with government money, Bruns said.

"Why," Bruns demanded to know, "can the government operate projects to build Chic Sale shacks for private persons, carry on white snail elimination projects and similar work, and yet say that it is illegal to kill rats on private property with government money?"

START PROBE

Bruns, who was considerably upset over the matter, said rats already are starting to overrun the city again because the project has been held up.

Mayor Fred C. Rowland appointed Bruns as a committee of one to make a sweeping investigation of the matter.

GUNS ROAR IN MWD STRIKE

BANNING. (AP)—A C. I. O. union picket was wounded by gunfire from a Metropolitan Water District truck while a newspaper reporter and his wife were shot at by a water district policeman in the Colorado river aqueduct strike last night.

D. D. Smith, member of a picket line at the aqueduct's San Jacinto tunnel was struck down by what D. C. Ledbetter, district engineer, said was a blast of buckshot from a truck after it had been stoned from all sides by pickets.

George Coverdale, Banning newspaperman, and his wife, Edith, reported they were the target of two shots as they drove away from the Metropolitan Water District's headquarters near here after getting pictures and news about the strike.

GUARD SHOTS TURKEY THIEF

When the night watchman on the Betty Blair turkey ranch in Silverado canyon saw a man in a corral with a turkey under his arm, he didn't hesitate to shoot at him. And it is believed he may have wounded the man.

According to a report filed in the sheriff's office, the watchman fired four shots at the intruder as he attempted to get away with a turkey last night.

Betty Blair reported the incident. All hospitals and doctors' offices are being checked to see whether or not anyone answering the intruder's description may have attempted to secure medical attention.

RENEW DRIVE TO SETTLE GLASS STRIKE

Officials Speed West To Fullerton Plant

High officials of the Mississippi Glass company were speeding from the East today, headed for Orange county, where they hope to be able to settle the strike in the company's big Fullerton plant.

This is the second attempt on the part of the glass company officials to put an end to the strike, which entered the fourth week today. A proposal offered by the employers to the striking workmen previously was rejected.

OFFER TURNED DOWN

Three weeks ago yesterday 60 employees of the Fullerton factory walked out. Members of the Glass Workers' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, have demanded contracts for a year, a 15 per cent increase in pay, a closed shop and time and a half for overtime. They have been earning from 53 to 75 cents an hour.

Union members claimed that the offer of settlement made by the company officials would have made working conditions worse than before. They said that they had presented their demands to the employers 15 days before they struck.

PICKETS ACTIVE

The union continued to maintain an iron-clad picket line around the factory today, while awaiting developments from the new move to end the strike. Officials of the factory told The Journal they did not know exactly when the high corporation officials would arrive in Orange county.

So far the union pickets have been successful in keeping out of the factory workers sent for by the employers. They managed to hold up two carloads of glassware shipped out by the company, through connections with other unions. No violence has marked the strike, the first major industrial strike in this county.

Four Injured in Car Accidents

Four persons were injured in local automobile accidents last night, reports show today.

Jesus Cruz, 50, is in the county hospital suffering from minor head and leg injuries sustained in an accident on Eighteenth street, one-half mile west of Costa Mesa. Three sailors stationed at San Diego were taken to Santa Ana Valley hospital for treatment after an accident early this morning. James Hawkins received bad cuts about the face and is still in the hospital. Others, who were discharged, are William Maurer and L. D. Stanley.

A Kelly Roofing company truck overturned at First and Harbor streets today when it collided with another truck. It was reported at the California Highway Patrol office.

CHINESE PUSH JAPANESE BACK

ened to disorganize plans of the Japanese command for seeking victory on a greatly extended front.

The advance of the Chinese was reported to have reached the Ward Road jail and Yangtzeop road, well within the eastern—or Japanese-held—district of the international settlement. Both points are within a few hundred yards of the Whangpoo riverfront, where reinforcements and supplies for the Japanese forces ashore have been landed.

ADVANCED FOUR MILES

The attacking Chinese forces came from their Kiangwan area on the northeast. Apparently they were trying to isolate several thousand Japanese marines holding the Hongkew sector. Chinese said at one point their lines had been advanced four miles, although on most of the front it was held to a few hundred yards.

The Chinese attacking forces braved savage bombardment from the air, from Japanese warships on the river and batteries ashore as they drove their lines forward. Military experts said that if the Chinese succeeded in reaching the waterfront and holding their new lines the position of the Japanese between the Whangpoo and Soochow creek—hitherto the main Japanese land forces—would be precarious.

Soochow creek forms the boundary between the Japanese section of the international settlement and the western districts guarded by American marines and British infantry, standing behind strong barricades to prevent incursions by either contending army.

Japanese lines were badly bent about a mile east of the Astor House hotel, at the junction of Soochow creek and the Whangpoo. Tanks and armored cars were rushed into the breach as the Japanese marines had to give ground.

REINFORCEMENTS LAND

The Japanese command, however, prepared to throw into the battle for Shanghai the new army arriving from Japan, greatly exceeding the force of operations and compel the Chinese to withdraw by flanking movements.

Seven troop ships landed Japanese reinforcements and war supplies at Japanese docks on the Whangpoo waterfront today. Sixteen more transports with 20,000 soldiers aboard were reported lying at the mouth of the Yangtze ready to attempt a landing under cover of darkness and the guns of their battle fleet.

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and smashed at the American Southern Baptist mission in the Changai quarter in North Shanghai and at the American Mission hospital at Nantungchow, up the Yangtze in Kiangsu province. The mission suffered heavily, and the fate of its 20 Americans was not known.

The international radio station at Chenju, near Shanghai, also was air bombed, without important damage.

TAX AVOIDANCE BILL RECEIVES APPROVAL

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate passed today the administration's tax avoidance bill, designed to plug loopholes through which the government has lost about $100,000,000 revenue annually.

Approved after a brief and almost perfunctory debate, the non-controversial measure was sent back to the house for consideration of minor amendments. Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.) of the senate finance committee told his colleagues the legislation would check the use of personal holding companies, foreign corporations, multiple trusts and other devices for avoiding income tax liability.

It was drafted at the President's request, after a joint congressional committee had investigated scores of corporate devices used to escape taxes.

The bill was adopted without a record vote a few minutes after the senate convened. Not a single provision was questioned.

Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) offered an amendment to direct the joint congressional committee on taxation to make a study of federal, state and local tax systems, with a view to eliminating duplication and discovering new sources of revenue.

He withdrew it, however, when Harrison explained that such a study already was under way, and that the committee had made its preliminary report.

$526,000,000 HOUSING BILL PASSES HOUSE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—House passage of the $526,000,000 low cost housing bill removed today the last big controversial feature of the waning congressional session.

The senate bill, authorizing federal loans and grants for state and municipal housing projects, was changed drastically by the house before it voted approval last night, 274 to 86.

As a result, a committee must adjust the differences in the house and senate versions before the bill can go to the White house. A wrangle was in prospect, but sponsors expected it certainly an agreement would be reached.

The housing program was the final measure on the Roosevelt program which Democratic leaders decided could be salvaged. Much of the administration legislation crop control, wage-hour, and government reorganization—has been deferred to the next session.

The only important tasks remaining before adjournment, aside from the housing agreement, were senate passage of the bills to close tax law loopholes and to make $95,000,000 deficiency appropriations. Little opposition was in sight, strengthening predictions that the session would end Saturday night.

In brief, the measure as passed by the house provides:

Loans to state and municipal agencies for developing low-rent housing or slum clearance projects, with communities putting up 15 per cent of construction costs. The senate fixed the amount at 5 per cent.

Capital grants up to 25 per cent of development costs. Annual subsidies, of which communities would contribute 25 per cent.

An initial appropriation of $26,000,000 and a $500,000,000 bond issue covering the next three years. The senate approved a $700,000,000 bond issue.

Limitation of cost to $5000 a dwelling unit. The senate set a $4000 limit, with a maximum of $1000 a room.

Limitation of funds for one state to 10 per cent of the total. The senate figure was 20 per cent.

It was understood to be seeking the cooperation and joint responsibility of the United States, France, Italy and Germany.

Juicy Pear Stops Car and Saves Woman

DETROIT. (AP)—Meyer Surowitz, a fruit vendor, saw a woman being dragged by a street car yesterday.

He took a ripe pear from his stand and let fly. The fruit struck it window near the motorman's head.

"He stopped the car to go after me, I guess," Surowitz said. "Then he saw the lady and went to help her."

Police said the car had dragged Mrs. Enid Gray, 39, for 75 feet. Her coat caught in a door as she left the car.

WEATHER HALTS SOVIET SEARCH

FAIRBANKS, Alaska. (AP)—Airmen of three nations watched today for a favorable break in the weather that would allow them to launch a search for six Soviet transpolar fliers missing since last Friday.

Veteran arctic aviators of the United States, Canada and Russia were ready to take to the air as soon as rain and clouds, that have kept them grounded for days, are dispelled.

The Soviet plane, piloted by Sigismund Levanevsky, was last heard from Friday shortly after it had passed the north pole on a 4000-mile flight from Moscow to Fairbanks.

2 DIE FROM CESSPOOL GAS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Gas fumes from a cesspool killed two persons and sent five others to an emergency hospital yesterday for treatment.

Juan Dominguez, 32, who was digging the pool in his yard, and Paul Vela, who attempted to rescue him, were suffocated by the noxious gas. Of the five rescuers also overcome were two firemen, Capt. Paul Clark, 34, and J. W. Moyn, 39. The others, who were revived, were Jose Aviles, 14; Trinidad Trajo, 16, and Ernest Foster, sheriff's deputy, who brought out Dominguez's body.

Origin of the drifting gas was not determined.

HERO'S BODY STILL SOUGHT AT HARBOR

While authorities still conducted a search for a man thought to have given his life in a vain attempt to save his brother's life, it was learned today that one body recovered was that of David M. Reid, San Gabriel, instead of his brother, John Reid.

The body, found floating near the harbor entrance Tuesday, was identified by a neighbor from San Gabriel yesterday as David, not John, it was reported.

It was believed David fell while fishing on the jetty at the harbor entrance, broke his leg, and toppled into the water. With reports that another body was seen floating in the water, authorities are searching for John Reid on the theory that he drowned in an attempt to save his brother.

Allan Reid, 84-year-old father of the pair, was too feeble to go to the Dixon mortuary at Costa Mesa to identify the body. Funeral services for David Reid will be held Saturday at Costa Mesa.

Sheriff Emert Kempton, who investigated the accident, said Miss Springer was driving at a high rate of speed when the car careened from the highway.

Ira Leake, Indio, owner of the car, suffered a broken leg when he was thrown from the vehicle. Another passenger, Robert Kelly, 16, Los Angeles, escaped injury.

Must Show Sales Tax on Goods

LOS ANGELES.—Effective Oct. 1, retailers throughout the state will be required to show the sales tax separately from the price of merchandise, under a new ruling by the state board of equalization. Merchants must also prominently display a sign in their places of business, stating the sales tax will be added to all posted and advertised prices on taxable merchandise.

New Highway Claims Victim

The body was found yesterday by a searching party after Lewis had failed to return home.

Lewis was en route home from a job up the coast. His truck was found 50 feet below the highway. He is survived by his widow and a 6-year-old son.

Townsend News, Views

By
WALTER R. ROBB

The 200,000 employees soon to be let loose in the United States in connection with the administration of the social security act, to be paid out of the funds it creates, are beginning to cause some serious thinking on the part of business men. It begins to be apparent that the bookkeeping which the act occasions, embodies too much detail and too large an expenditure for salaries.

When the full force of administration costs become known to the workers and their employers who are the ones whose salaries and business incomes are sliced to provide the funds, a real howl all over the nation will go up.

There is no necessity for such a cumbersome method for providing old age annuities. While the nation needs a simple method by which its citizens, when they arrive at old age, will be provided for out of life annuities of sufficient size as will enable them to continue to live in a manner compatible with respectability unto the close of life. This can be accomplished at very low cost to the workers and their employers without all the red tape as is now estimated will be connected with the enforcement of the security act.

The present act operates to reduce the immediate and future purchasing power of the workers and their employers who contribute to the social security act fund. To the same extent as pay checks are reduced and incomes of business concerns are lessened, the purchasing power of the nation will diminish.

What the nation needs is an increase of purchasing power and increased profits for business. With increased money circulation there will come increased employment with a consequent increased purchasing power. The simplified transaction tax of the Townsend plan will make such accomplishments possible and at the same time give power to the nation to provide for generous old age annuities. Under the Townsend plan there won't be the necessity of paying salaries to an army of 200,000 to investigate how many nickels each worker has earned in a lifetime. Instead of the workers waiting until they are 65 years under the Townsend plan, at 60 years they would become eligible to their annuities. Not much red tape to such a method, and only a very low administration cost. It seems likely that serious thought will soon be given by business men and the general public to the need of a more simplified method of dealing with the old age annuity problem. The very simplicity of the Townsend plan will then make its appeal as the practical, sensible, feasible solution to the problem at hand.

FARM LEADER SEES NEW SLUMP IN '41

400 Farmers Hear R. W. Blackburn's Talk

Watch out for another depression in 1941 or 1942, depending on whether you prefer Cornell or University of California economists.

This was the basis of a talk by R. W. Blackburn, president of the State Farm Bureau federation, who paid a surprise visit last night to a farm center picnic at Anaheim city park.

More than 400 persons heard Blackburn instead of seeing a softball game, which was called off when two other teams were found to be using the diamond. His talk followed a barbeque dinner, attended by farm center members from Anaheim, Garden Grove and Cypress-Magnolia.

Blackburn, who is vacationing at Newport, told of conferences recently at Cornell university and the University of California with economists and farm leaders.

Prosperity factors. Four factors in prosperity, he said, are activity in the following industries: agriculture, textiles, automobiles and building. He said economists at Cornell predicted another slump in 1941, and U. C. economists said it would be in 1942.

Blackburn also praised work of the farm centers and the farm bureau program. H. H. Freese, president of the Anaheim farm center, presided at the affair, introducing Joan McClaren of Anaheim, accordionist.

Librarian Gives 4 Book Reviews

Miss Ethel Walker, city librarian, gave short summaries of four recent novels and reviewed one book more extensively yesterday afternoon when she was guest speaker for the monthly book review tea at the Unitarian church. "The City of Belles," an English novel by Elizabeth Goudge, was the book most emphasized, while "Permet" by John McIntyre, "The American Dream" by Michael Foster, "And So Victoria" by Vaughan Wilkins, and "Victoria-Four-Thirty" by Cecil Roberts were given brief mention.

City Again Delays Award Of Broadway Paving Job

After calling a special meeting to award contract for repaving North Broadway from First to Tenth street, the city council last night failed to take action on the big paving program.

It was the third time the council passed up awarding of bid, and with no public discussion of the matter, it was voted last night to call another special meeting for next Monday night, when the paving job will be made a special order of business.

The Journal learned that members of the council held a private session just prior to the open public meeting last night. The councilmen arrived at the public session in a body, and were a half-hour late. A member of the council said they had been discussing the Broadway paving job.

Low bidder on the job is the Oswald Brothers contracting firm of Los Angeles. Its bid was for $32,941.49. The Sully-Miller Contracting company of Long Beach bid $33,839.26 and the Orange county firm of Wells and Bressler was high with a bid of $39,429.90. An estimate on the job submitted by City Engineer J. L. McBride set the figure at $38,338.90.

EMPLOY ATTORNEY

Z. B. West, prominent local attorney, was interested spectator at the council meeting last night. He told The Journal he has been employed by the Oswald Brothers firm to represent it.

Mayor Fred C. Rowland told The Journal the council has delayed action on awarding of the contract in order to study different specifications to see if more work could not be done with the same amount of money. There is nothing wrong with the three bids received, he said.

WOMAN AID CHISELER GETS 60 DAYS

Sixty days in the county jail was the penalty placed today on Mrs. Ethel Cora Wall, 408 East Third street, after she had pleaded guilty to fraudulently accepting state relief money amounting to $679.44. She has four children and said she and her husband have separated.

Judge Chris P. Pann, acting justice in Santa Ana justice court, sentenced Mrs. Wall. This is the first time in the history of change county that anyone has been given a jail sentence for relief chiseling.

This is also the third such case in this county of relief chiseling. Mrs. Wall asked that she be permitted to work out the amount, but the request was refused by the court. In the two previous cases, the defendants were allowed to make restitution.

She was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Jack E. Barton, special investigator for State Controller Harry B. Riley. It is charged that she signed false affidavits regarding her need of state relief.

Harry M. Kemmerer spoke upon the subject, "Don't Hurry," in which he advised more relaxation and less haste.

"A Few Don't's" was the title of the speech given by LeRay Quick. His "don't's" were in regard to dangers encountered in deer hunting.

The speech by William Cummings was a tale of some of his mining adventures in the Southwest. His topic was "A Little Learning Is a Dangerous Thing."

Daniel K. Brown presided as toastmaster, while the office of general critic was filled by Smedley. James Workman acted as dictionary critic.

REPORT DROP IN UTILITY ASSESSMENT

Public utility assessment rolls totaling $14,242,660 were in the hands of County Auditor W. T. Lambert today, having been turned over by A. G. Mott, chief of the valuation division of the state board of equalization, in charge of assessing public utilities property throughout the state.

Orange county rolls show a decrease of $3,082,800 from the 1936 total of $17,325,460, caused by dropping from utility rolls of the Seal Beach lighting plant, owned until this year by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric company.

The state board on Monday refused Los Angeles city's plea for revision of Assessor James Sleepers $2,000,000 assessment of machinery at the plant for county rolls. Machinery at the plant now is assessed as improvements to property.

Total valuation on public utilities in the state jumped five per cent over 1936 figures, Mott said, with a total this year of $1,003,748,210.

The law requires that the assessment rolls be delivered to county auditors immediately after the third Monday in August.

Autumn Theme Adopted for S. A. Style Show

Modes of autumn will be displayed in a colorful "Parade of the Windows" to be staged by merchants of Santa Ana on Sept. 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Secretary Howard I. Wood of the chamber of commerce announced today that definite dates for the fall merchandising event were set at a meeting of display men and women held this morning in chamber offices in the courthouse annex. Sixteen attended the meeting.

The event this year will be largely in the hands of men and women who arrange merchandise displays in the various store windows.

Each store will adopt a theme which fits into the general "Modes of Autumn" theme. Records of these individual store themes will be kept at the chamber offices to avoid duplications. The themes must be recorded at the chamber not later than Aug. 28.

MUSIC CHEERS BREAKFASTERS

Robert and Genevieve Townsend, of Yorba Linda, and students from the National Institute of Music and Art, Santa Ana, furnished the entertainment this morning for the breakfast club. Ray Taylor was program chairman. Miss Townsend gave two piano selections and Mr. Townsend two violin numbers.

Little Miss Silvia Johnson, three years of age, presented a violin number on an instrument especially made for her, and also responded to an encore with a song.

30 New Oil Wells For California

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—R. D. Bush, state oil supervisor, reported today drillers filed notice for sinking 30 new wells in California fields last week. This brings the 1937 total to 1019, which compared with 678 at the like date last year.

One Hurt as Car And Bicycle Crash

Arthur Waldron of Orange is in St. Joseph's hospital today for observation, following a collision between his bicycle and a car driven by Harvey Leichtfuss, also of Orange, at Waverly street and East Almond avenue there yesterday afternoon.

Young Waldron suffered cuts and bruises when he is reported to have run into the side of the Leichtfuss car. He was taken to the office of an Orange physician and later removed to the hospital to officiate the following week. Guests were Ernest F. Gray and Earl Parnell, both Santa Ana business men.

Will Prosecute Crash Violations

Lieut. B. A. Hershey of the police motor squad indicated today that all convictions possible will be attempted in cases where the vehicle code has been violated during automobile accidents. In a bulletin to officers of the motor squad, Hershey asked that they secure names and addresses of all witnesses to accidents if present. He also urged that his officers get statements from witnesses involving violations of the code which will aid in getting convictions. These measures are being carried out in line with the police department's fight to reduce traffic fatalities, he pointed out.

Daylight Thief Gets $60 Haul

Sixty dollars worth of clothing was taken from the home of L. E. White, 731 South Van Ness avenue in a daylight burglary Tuesday. It was reported to police yesterday.

After cutting the screen to a bedroom, the burglar made his entrance through the opened window. The loot consisted of a suit, four shirts, and four pairs of men's socks.

FREE PAPER THROWING REGULATED

Free distribution of newspapers, circulars and handbills will be permitted henceforth only under police supervision, but with practically little regulation otherwise, the city council decreed last night. The city fathers gave first reading to an amendment strengthening present regulations, and set up a fee basis under which they will condone the distribution.

For $25 a year, a person, firm or corporation can go into the distribution business, but legal newspapers are excluded from this levy. They can distribute under their business licenses, providing they first obtain permits from the chief of police. All other distributors likewise must obtain such permits, fee for which will be $2 for each publication.

In the upper right corner of each publication, the council decreed, must be printed a notice that householders may notify the distributor not to leave the printed matter.

No advertising matter shall be left at any vacant house or apartment, at any church, school or public building, or placed in automobiles, unless placed in proper receptacles.

All publications must be tied, wrapped or folded so the wind won't blow them away, it was ordered. None shall be left at any place where there is evidence that other distributions have not been collected. This, the council held, will prevent cluttering of lawns and porches and deter promiscuous distribution.

The chief of police must be notified two days in advance of any distribution, and may issue permits on a monthly basis to newspapers providing they list the date of their free distribution of any publications.

OLIVE BUILDING PLAN SPURRED

After a delay of about a year, residents of the Olive district today had reason to believe plans for a $62,000 assembly hall and gymnasium finally will be approved by the National Works Progress Administration officials.

The project now has received the approval of officials of the WPA in Orange county and in district headquarters in San Diego. It still must be approved by state and national authorities.

The assembly hall and gymnasium will serve the Olive grammar school district. Plans for the structure were submitted to the WPA about a year ago, and were approved just before the government changed the ratio of contributions from sponsoring political subdivisions.

An $8000 bond issue had been voted by the Olive school district as the community's share in the cost of the building. The plans call for construction of a building across the street from the present Olive grammar school, facing Bixby drive.

Ruiz is asserted to have been causing a disturbance in the cafe earlier with his father, Julian Ruiz.

CLEAN AS A WHISTLE

BACK from vacation—clothes clean as a whistle? If so, you're super human and needn't read on. But if you're mortal, you've some decidedly wilted linens, dejected sheers and sagging silks on your hands. And whenever you put them on, you wilt, deject and sag, too. No condition for a fashionable femme at any time, but especially not with Autumn alertness breezing in, mocking you from shop windows. Still there's plenty of warm weather left to wear those summer things, so bundle them up and send them to the WASHINGTON CLEANERS, 1109 N. Main, who'll bring them back in that envied state of the whistle.

MARIE GRADY MOVES

DID you know about it? The MARIE GRADY BEAUTY SALON has just left the First National Bank Bldg., and reopened in a cool, shady spot at 1906 N. Main. It's a break for you who live on that side of town, and her many friends who will now be farther away will enjoy the new Salon. The Grady Salon, as you know, specializes in the Zotos Permanent, the original Machineless Wave with which we've become so familiar through national advertising. The Machineless doesn't oversteer your hair—leaves it softer, more natural looking. Especially good for "difficult" hair. P. S. Revlon manicures, too.

YOUNG MARRIEDS

MADAME CHAUFFEUR TAKE NOTE

IF you think a dried complexion is summer's only toll, take a look at your car. Sun, sand and salt water—bathing suit dripping—have had their way with paint job, polish, seat covers and engine. Or else you're a better car-keeper than we are. While you're busy with post-vacation, Fall house-cleaning, send your jollydown to GOODRICH SILVERTOWN, 101 N. Broadway, for a thorough car-cleaning and reconditioning. You'll save on cleaning bills as well as car repairs. Not to mention the insurance of safer driving, which becomes more important every day. Incidentally, GOODRICH has the smartest looking seat covers in town.

AN OLD, OLD ART

TAPESTRIES, worked by the slender hands of gentlewomen—they've been treasured heirlooms since the Middle Ages. It's an ancient and exquisite art, recently revived in a combination of new designs with the old. What could be a more cherished Christmas gift than a tapestry footstool or chair cover, that you needed yourself? There are beautiful new samplers at the WORK BASKET, 411 N. Broadway. Suggestions: for a Duncan Phyfe chair seat, the Minerva Classic sign, also good for Modern Classic sign, Minerva Colonial for Early American.

FASHION CHATTER

In San Francisco over the week-end—first time since we were knee-high to a turtle. Must add our praises to the general adulation of the new bridges. After all we'd heard they still are one of the two most inspiring man-made sights we've ever seen. The other being the Lincoln Memorial in moonlight. The Oakland bridge is even more breathtaking by night than by day—a luminous amber necklace strung across land and water as far as the eye can see. From a ship out on the bay, MISS ELAINE FASHION you've this giant's necklace on the one hand, on the other 'Frisco's lighted skyline, recalling Manhattan from the East river.

Autumn is in full gust up the coast. Came back more Fall-minded than ever. We saw heavy suits and furs everywhere, with shoes and bags in the new Autumn-leaf colors. A particularly interesting note was the popularity of crownless hats, in black velvet, principally. Both daytime streetwear and evening night-clubbing. Some used black net in the crown, to control short locks—or to flatter blonde hair. Wool ensembles of one-piece dress and matching, or blending, coats were the smartest outfits we saw—and the most practical. That, to our mind, is the ideal costume for California weather and activities. Complete in itself for the long Fall and Spring seasons, an extra incidental coat always in demand for cool evenings, and a smart frock to wear under a heavy coat in winter. We've noticed stunning ensembles in several of the local shops.

In your most recent night club tour of the Bay city, have you hit upon the Seven Seas? For cleverly effected atmosphere, it's one of the most "atmospheric." "Rain" pours off a tin roof with such realistic wetness, you're convinced you're in the midst of the tropical rainy season. Real Hawaiian entertainers. And of course you've eaten at the famous original Luuca's—even more so than the Los Angeles one. That's all for this week.

FASHIONS IN PERSONALITY

OFF on the wrong foot—when our nails are Revlon-ed, our coiffure perfection, gown after Adrian and hat by Suzy, and we still "miss fire"—that's what's wrong. So much time and emphasis are concentrated on the outward details of appearance, we often lose sight of their real function, which is to HIGHLIGHT beauty and charm, not manufacture it. That elusive thing called Personality is what makes us or breaks us. We're chatting along these lines with Mr. E. H. Smith, who is opening the new Business School at 706 N. Main on Sept. 7. Mr. Smith is one of the rare real teachers in the world—he understands people. We were deeply interested to hear of his Class in Self Study, which is an integral part of his school. What excited us most was Mr. Smith's hint that he would give a series of free lectures on self analysis and personality development. SHOULD THERE BE DEMAND? If you are interested, and we can't imagine anyone not being, phone us at 3660.

SCOLLER SCOOP

HAVE you seen SCOLLER'S new Wild West window? Rush down and have a look before it's changed again. Most exciting display in town. Against a coral gate, an honest-to-gosh saddle and Autumn leaves, three RaRcho dresses that will make your tongue hang out—and make you look the gay heroine of a daring adventure.

DOLLAR DAY VALUE—

DID you miss the remarkable Dollar Day offer at the CALIFORNIA PATIO POTTERY, 414 W. Fourth? As a special convenience to POTTERY customers, it has been held over for the few remaining sets—Thirty-two piece sets of well-known Rainbow Pottery for merely $5.95! There is, besides, a set of five Monterey bowls for $1! Fashion note: Calart corsages for Fall suits.

HOT WEATHER PERMANENT

THE thought of having a permanent in this weather is pretty appalling isn't it? Steaming for hours under that hot, heavy machine, becoming less and less beautiful every minute in your mind. Just about decided to give up and let down? But life does go on—and something has to be done about straggling locks. I've found just the thing: a Machineless Wave or a Combo Ringlet—the answer to a straight-tressed maiden's prayer. Besides being infinitely cooler to take, they give you a softer, more natural curl, and are much better for the hair. You'll find the ends won't split, or the natural oils dry out, robbing the sheen. PEGGY'S BEAUTY SHOP at 114 E. Fourth specializes in these softer waves, offering the Machineless for five dollars, and the Combo for three dollars to five. Ask Peggy's advice on scalp cure.

THE MORNING AFTER

DOES some of your furniture show "morning after" effects of summer parties and "open house" week-ends? Stains, chips, scratches, buckling? A couple of chairs were taken outdoors, perhaps, and exposed to the heavy night dew. For any one, or all those conditions, consult the FAIRMAC STUDIO, 116 S. Sycamore, for advice on reconditioning and ask for an estimate. We have watched them in their workshop and seen many samples of their work. Upholstering, re-finishing and repairing.

OLD TOM SAVES LIFE

OLD TOM preceded the present Big Ben as time-piece of England's Houses of Parliament. It was even more shrouded in legend than his successor. In one instance, the big clock saved a man's life. It was in the reign of William and Mary—a soldier was condemned by court martial for falling asleep on duty on the terrace of Windsor. Hotly denying the charge, the young guard vowed he had heard Old Tom strike midnight—and that there had been 13 o'clock instead of 12. Officers laughed and he was thrown in prison to await execution. In the interim, several persons came forward and swore that on that night, Old Tom actually had struck 13. The young soldier was granted royal pardon. This series by courtesy of H. R. TROTT, Fifth and Sycamore.

THAT GOOD BAKERY SMELL—

IT gets us, every time we walk through the Grand Central Market. EATON'S, of course, guaranteed to tempt the most jaded appetite. Have you ever tasted King Tut Fingers, a la Eaton? Long chocolate macaroons, something different with fruit desserts. Richly browned apple sauce cake, too.

LUXURIOUSLY LOUNGING

LADY of leisure luxuriously lounging—self-portrait of a day dreamer. All most of us need is the leisure and the luxury. According to Marjorie Hillis, we owe it to our personality to indulge in a little of both—and you don't have to live alone to like that! For the leisure part, even the busiest can usually count on Sunday morning and at least one evening a week. As to the luxury—of flowing negligees and dramatic lounging pajamas, we've an answer to that, too. You can go utterly luxurious at very little cost at RANKIN'S this week—at their negligee sale. Everything in the way of a boudoir costume, from a tailored navy pullover coat to Hollywood-inspired lounging pajamas. Satins, matelasse crepes, ribbed chenille, et al.

HOUSE HUNTING?

OUR sympathy—it's a job. We just heard about one that's a real find. Of prime interest, convenient and attractive location at 706 S. Birch. Six rooms. Furnace and fireplace. Front lawn and large fenced-in back yard, with your own peach, orange and walnut trees! Phone 4871, or see ALLEMAN, 313 Bush.

LOOKING FOR A USED CAR?

WE'VE just made a find. And if you're even remotely considering buying a "new" used car, we advise you to look at it. A '35 Master Chevrolet Coupe. Mist Green, with light yellow wheels—the paint and polish look like new. Beige upholstery that is actually clean and attractive, with the napp still on it. Dashboard unscratched and shining, and a floor-mat that appears to be new. To get down to the practical points of performance, not obvious at first glance: The mileage—in answer to your first question—is low, decidedly so for a two-year-old car. Tires with a good deep tread. A smooth running motor that, with the general condition of the car, bespeaks care from its previous owner. REID MOTOR CO., 107 S. Main.

COLLEGE GIRLS

IF YOU'RE a new—or comparatively new—sister or grandmother, we've found just the thing for you. As much fun as that electric train that's, as yet, a bit previous. Yet dainty, baby-like and practical. It's a musical lamp for the nursery—the most adorable things you can imagine. Plump china ducklings and wee laughing puppies whose musical "innards" sing the Brahms Lullaby. Pink, blue or yellow. Table lamps are $5.95. Floor lamps play Rock-a-Bye Baby—$13.50. BETTY ROSE SHOP, 215 North Broadway.

The De Luxe "Windsor" model has three ovens, no less, a big, insulated baking oven, pastry oven with its own heat control, and a handy roll-out broiler. STAUFFER'S, 212 N. Broadway.

JUST unpacked yesterday—new satin damask table cloths—Blarritz. Worth, in sheen and pattern, of the banquet table of a duchess. One associates it, somehow, with Spode and old sterling—with a gracious hostess and distinguished guests. Belgian damask, too, in lovely pastel colors—the crisp coolness of pale green, the richness of ivory, the splendor of gold, snowy white and delicate peach. Beginning as low as $4.95. LOUIS WILL 'KILL' FARR, SAYS SCHMELING

SPORTS Copy-Wrighted ODDS and ENDS BY PAUL WRIGHT

Like Gerald Allen (Tex) Oliver, the ex-Saint maestro now at the University of Arizona, Coach Bo McMillin of Indiana believes football players should sit far up in the stands on the 50-yard line.

A birds-eye view of the game tells the coach as well as the players more about it than can be gleaned from a mass of twisted legs and arms from near sidelines.

Oliver partially put into practice the idea last fall. He would sit high in the press box at some of his most important games, and direct the Arizonans by a special telephone running to the players' bench.

A. J. (Bill) Cook of the Santa Ana Dons employs the same system at championship games, although he remains on the bench and sends an assistant into the press box.

McMillin, it seems, would have all of his players sit high above the 50-yard line. In substituting, he would send a player down a special slide to the edge of the field. A player leaving the game would go up in the stands in an elevator.

When sitting on the sidelines, explains McMillin, the coach and substitutes "can't really tell what is happening, especially when play gets down in the promised land."

But if the arrangement he proposes were adopted, he goes on, "we could see the ball in play, instead of just a mass of legs and arms. When a boy made a mistake, we could see it clearly."

McMillin's plan appears sound, provided he would forget about that special slide. Why not have the players leave as well as return to the high bench by elevator?

Three of his closest friends—it is unnecessary to name them—have done our John Lehnhardt wrong.

They informed the press that John, co-captain of Santa Ana Junior's Southern California football champions, DEFTENITELY had married Miss Ginger Keeler of Santa Ana, and had returned from his honeymoon.

Two never thus, says Lehnhardt. He would like to lay his hands on the friends who spread the word he was married. . . . John and Ginger are engaged to be married, however.

Willie (Emperor) Jones, colored pitcher on the Saints' nine here two years ago, is boot-black at a stand near the plaza in Orange, but will leave soon to enroll at San Jose state, where he has a scholarship. . . . Kiman Kudo, Japanese wrestling champion, and Ignacio Martinez, 230-pound young Mexican star, today were signed for Monday night's three-fall feature match at the Orange County Athletic club.

Pirates Reduce Cubs' Lead as Giants Come Fast

PITTSBURGH'S WIN STREAK EXTENDED

Bucs Upset Chicago 7-6 in Ninth; Yanks Gain 1 1/2-Game Lead

By SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

The "experts" who climbed 'way out on that creaky limb for the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks ago were scrambling all over each other today, trying to get back before the thing broke in two under them.

You could hear it cracking wide open all over the National league, particularly in gleeful New York, whose galloping Giants were only two games off the pace; in Pittsburgh, where the once more pounding Pirates were moving along at their fastest pace since early in the season, and in glum Chicago, whose Cubs were giving unmistakable signs of quietly folding up and stealing away.

ONLY NOVICES WIN That once lengthy lead on which the Cubs were riding is disappearing with all the speed and completeness of a hot dog in the hands of a fan with that eight-inning hunger, while the Giants and Pirates are pulling up for a finish fight.

The Bucs pinned the fifth straight setback on the injury-riddled Windy City wallopers yesterday, winning 7-6 in a two-run rally in the ninth, to climb back into a virtual tie for third place. At the same time, the Giants, making the most of their newly-discovered ability to hit timely behind their top-flight flinging, belted the Bees, 9-1, for their fifth straight win, and were only one pitch and putt off the pace.

The Pirates victory was also the Bucs' fifth in a row, and made it look like the Pittsburgh bunch may finally be coming out of their sleep-walking habits of recent years. Although they have little of the crack pitching that is skyrocketing the Giants along, particularly the masterful left arm of "King Carl" Hubbell who turned in a seven-hitter yesterday, the Bucs are betting that apple-and-winning the close ones.

While the Giants have been taking the second-division Phillies and Bees during their current winning streak, the Pirates have run into the tougher sockers from St. Louis and Chicago, with the same results. Whichever way you look at it, however, it appears the Giants and Pirates may yet fight it out for the flag, with the Cardinals still to be heard from and the Cubs praying for fewer band-aids on more ball-players.

MEANTIME, the Yankees are slugging along on an 11 1/2-game lead in the American league, waiting for the rival circuit to decide whether it'll be another New York subway series, or whether Chicago, Pittsburgh or St. Louis will be the party of the second part.

Murderer's row made it three straight over the Senators yesterday with a 7-6 decision on the strength of Joe DiMaggio's 35th homer, which broke up the ball game in the ninth inning.

The second-place Tigers were trounced thoroughly by the White Sox, losing 6-0 to Vernon Kennedy's four-hit flinging. The Athletics scored their first win of the year over the Red Sox, 4-2.

The Indians and Browns broke even in a double bill, Cleveland coming through 5-2 in the opener and then dropping an 11-6 clouting contest. The Dodgers and Phils were rained out and the Cards and Reds took the day off.

TRACKMAN TOM MOORE AILING TOKYO. (AP)—Except for Tom Moore, San Francisco Olympic club hurdler, America's track and field team will compete in a series of meets in Japan, arrived today in good condition.

Moore, weak from a series of ear abscesses, may not be in shape in time for the Americans' first meet at Tokyo Aug. 28.

Jim Reynolds, Olympic club shot putter and discus thrower, sprained his ankle, and Irving Folwarsky, Rhode Island State college hammer thrower, injured his back while training on shipboard, but both will be able to compete in the opening test.

UNKNOWN ARE THE FAVORITES IN BIG GRAND AMERICAN TRAPSHOOT

By FRITZ HOWELL

VANDALIA, O. (AP)—This little village, tucked away on the banks of the Miami, is ready to stuff its ears with cotton again as America's trapshooters stage their annual invasion Aug. 23-27 for the Grand American trapshoot program, the premier event in the lives of scatter-gun artists.

At five cents a shotgun shell—the average cost—the 1000 marksmen will shoot up a total of $50,000 in ammunition, the exact amount of the prize list, as they fire at more than 1,000,000 clay targets. With each shotgun shell carrying an ounce and an eighth of shot, the clay target breakers will toss about 78,125 pounds, or 39 tons, of lead into the area in front of the traps.

A quarter-mile of traps, each trap accommodating five marksmen, stretches out in front of the clubhouse of the permanent home of the A. T. A. here, and those traps will be busy from 8 a. m. until midnight each day of the big tourney. No wonder the townspeople, their quiet usually broken only by traffic, stuff their ears with cotton during the Grand American bombardment.

ONLY NOVICES WIN The squads of five are permitted to fire only 25 shots from any one trap, and each 25 is divided into rounds of five which must be fired from different posts at each trap. All of which means that a 200-target event, a marksmen fires from 40 different positions, eliminating breaks due to good shooting background, and preventing him from getting too many difficult angle shots.

The Grand American handicap, the feature 100-target event and goal of every marksman, has been won each year for a long time by some shooter who has come up from nowhere. Topnotchers of the sport can't seem to win the big prize, and some novice who "gets hot" is usually the victor.

Contestants are handicapped by distance in the big shoot, topnotchers being forced to fire from 25 yards back of the traps where the clay targets emerge at 50 miles an hour. The low-average trap shoots from 16 yards, while others are graded between those points, according to the averages they have built up for the year on targets in registered shoots.

No champion has ever repeated in the Grand, for once a marksmen is in the Grand, he is in the Grand, and he is in the Grand.

HE SHOWED 'EM Ben F. Cheek, 60-year-old Clinton, Ind., 'coon hunter, won the Grand American handicap a year ago, and he did it the hard way.

He used an automatic shotgun with a sliding barrel, the one gun the experts say cannot be used on the traps, to break 98 of 100 targets and go into a 3-way tie for the title. Then, in a 75-target shoot-off, the longest on record for the event, he outlasted two foes and grabbed the $1000 prize. It was his first trip to the Grand. He said he came along "just to watch my boy do some shooting."

In 1935 the championship went to J. B. Royall of Tallahassee, Fla., a railway conductor, and the year before, L. G. Dana of Derrick City, Pa., an oil man "who came along just to be with the boys," took the crown. It was Dana's first trip to the big shoot, too.

Charley (Sparrow) Young of Springfield, O., broke 100 targets in a row to take the Grand American in 1926. Although he's the only man to have taken part in every Grand American program and has won many other trapshoot titles, he's never won another Grand American.

Trapshoot is different from skeet, the new shotgun-clay-target sport that is sweeping the U. S. Skeet shooters will hold their third national championships starting Aug. 31 at Detroit.

In trapshoot the marksman stands on a fan-shaped, five-bladed trap behind the traphouse from which the targets are tossed out in front of him. The targets leave the trap at any angle within a 120-degree limit, travel at close to 50 miles an hour, generally on a slightly-rising trajectory.

DO NOT ALLOW ACCIDENTS In skeet the targets are tossed from two traphouses, placed on opposite sides of the field. The marksman shoots around a "circle," firing from in front of each traphouse at the targets, which always take the same line of flight, and then swinging around in half-circle from one traphouse to the other, firing from five designated posts en route.

The Grand American handicap, the feature 100-target event and goal of every marksman, has been won each year for a long time by some shooter who has come up from nowhere.

Topnotchers of the sport can't seem to win the big prize, and some novice who "gets hot" is usually the victor.

Contestants are handicapped by distance in the big shoot, topnotchers being forced to fire from 25 yards back of the traps where the clay targets emerge at 50 miles an hour.

The low-average trap shoots from 16 yards, while others are graded between those points, according to the averages they have built up for the year on targets in registered shoots.

No champion has ever repeated in the Grand, for once a marksmen is in the Grand, he is in the Grand, and he is in the Grand.

HE SHOWED 'EM Ben F. Cheek, 60-year-old Clinton, Ind., 'coon hunter, won the Grand American handicap a year ago, and he did it the hard way.

He used an automatic shotgun with a sliding barrel, the one gun the experts say cannot be used on the traps, to break 98 of 100 targets and go into a 3-way tie for the title.

Then, in a 75-target shoot-off, the longest on record for the event, he outlasted two foes and grabbed the $1000 prize. It was his first trip to the Grand. He said he came along "just to watch my boy do some shooting."

Thousand Seats Are Available; Kiger's Lions Seek Revenge

One thousand seats will be available for County Nightball league fans tonight when Irvine, Brea, attempts to make it two straight over Virgil Kiger's invading Brea Lions at 8:15 o'clock.

The clubs are waging a four-out-of-seven series for the 1937 championship, and the right to represent the County league's six-team wheel in the Examiner's annual Southern California amateur tournament in Los Angeles early next month.

Here is how the two clubs hit during the Shaughnessy playoff's first round in which Brea drubbed San Juan Capistrano and Irvine eliminated Holly Sugar:

Rudy Montgomery or Ray Hodgson will go to the ridge for Brea, with Manager Kiger reserving the right to spring a last-minute surprise. Montgomery was charged with Monday's defeat, after being nicked for 11 hits in the full nine innings.

Irvine returns to Brea for the third game next Monday night. The fourth will be played at Irvine the following Thursday. A fifth—if necessary—is scheduled for Brea Aug. 30. The sixth will be held at Irvine Sept. 1, and the seventh on Tustin's neutral field Sept. 3.

BOMBER GOES SIX ROUNDS IN TRAINING

Moxie Arrives, Plans To Challenge Next Thursday's Winner

NEW YORK. (AP)—Max Schmeling, who knows the Atlantic ocean as well as most people know their front yard, is back in town to start another installment of his hunt for the heavyweight championship of the world.

The big German completed his fifth trans-Atlantic trip within little more than a year yesterday, and immediately went into a huddle with newspapermen, who emerged with the not-too-startling news the Uhan considers Tommy Farr a pushover for Joe Louis.

Sometime today, Schmeling will talk with Mike Jacobs concerning a bout with Louis. There is bound to be an argument. Jacobs is willing to put on a bout between the Farr-Louis winner either in New York or Philadelphia, but he wants Schmeling to take 20 per cent of the gate and sign under his banner for two years. Max wants 30 per cent and says he has no intention of giving Jacobs an exclusive option on his services.

The Black Uhan's reply to a question: "What's Farr got?" was short and sweet.

"Exactly 208 pounds—nothing else," replied Max. "Louis will kill him."

LOUIS WORKS FOUR DAYS, RESTS THREE POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (AP)—Champion Joe Louis will work four days and rest three before moving into New York one week from today for his first battle as heavyweight king against Tommy Farr.

Joe will put on the gloves for six rounds today, Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday, and will rest tomorrow, Monday and Wednesday.

Max Schmeling, who knocked out Louis in June, 1936, will visit the camp this week. Another visitor expected is Bill Robinson, tap dancer.

The champion is still chuckling over the trick he played yesterday on Trainer Jack Blackburn. Three miles from camp Louis and his stablemate, Dave Clark, climbed into the automobile which Blackburn had driven out while they walked and drove him. Blackburn had to walk back to training quarters.

ORANGE GIRLS PLAY AGAIN

Orange's formidable Lionettes, warming up for their attractive clash with Visalia's park-storming girls Saturday night, will entertain the Huntington Park Lancers on the Orange city park grounds at 8:15 tonight. There will be a 15-cent admission.

Miss Lois Terry, the southpaw blonde who struck out 21 in one game last week, is slated to pitch both struggles for Coach Alvin Edwards' Amazons, President Ray Arguello of the Orange Lions announced.

Word reached The Journal today that Clark Keene, who claims to be an all-state quarterback from Texas, will enroll with Santa Ana Junior college in football next month.

The kid brother of San Francis, University of Nebraska's all-American fullback, is considering enrolling at a Pacific coast conference school this fall, but may land with the Dors for a year of seasoning, it was learned. Young Francis also is a back.

It's tobacco harvest time down in Dixie, and here's some native produce. First, there's Marian Thompson, pretty Danville, Va., miss, who illustrates how large the celebrated Virginia leaf grows. Only two leaves are required to clothe her attractively and modestly.

THE GOLDEN WEED.

In Georgia and North Florida tobacco markets the first of the 1937 bright leaf tobacco crop sold briskly. "Golden weed" farmers of the two states expected more than $15,000,000 for their crop. Here's an auctioneer (hand upraised) and buyers at the Metter, Ga., market.

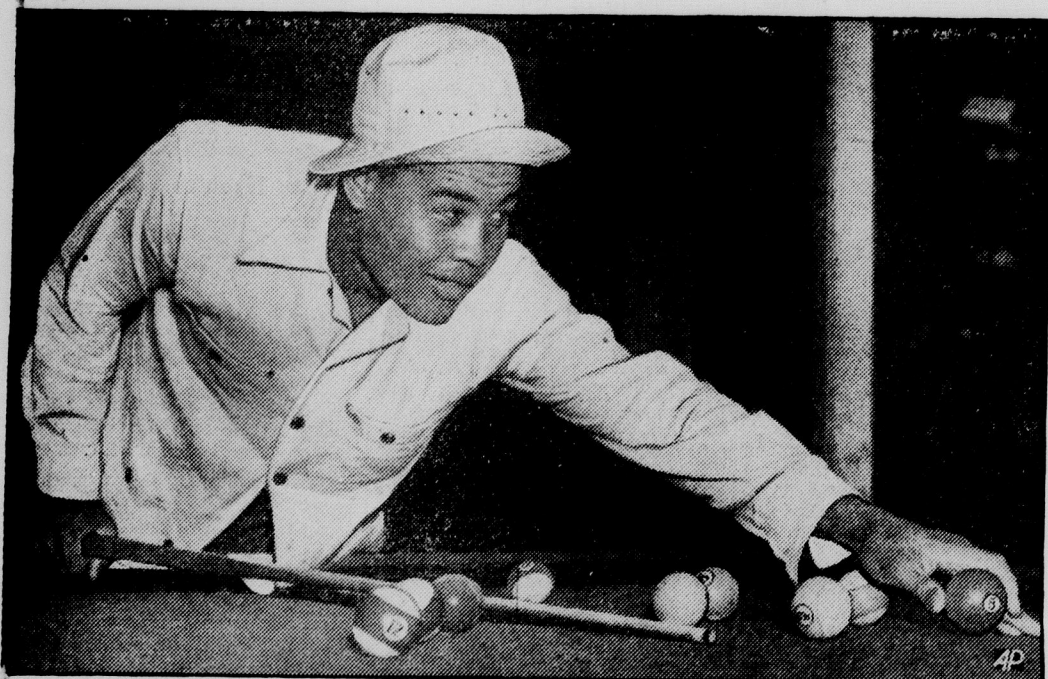

HARVEST SCENE.

It's a long, back-breaking stretch from the tiny shoots of the seed bed to the cured, marketable "hands" of tobacco leaves. Here, J. D. McLelland, Valdosta, Ga., grower, is doing some post-harvest shopping after trading his "long brown" for some "long green."

PLANTATION PALS.

An interested pickaninny watches N. O. Taylor, 59 and blind for 20 years, as he gathers tobacco at Hartsfield, Ga. Taylor follows his crop from the seed bed to market. He said he could tell by the "feel" when his plants are diseased and when they need to be sprayed.

VANDERMAST GROVE BRINGS $53,750

WEEK'S TOTAL SALES NOW AT $361,750

Merchant's North Main Ranch Sold for Cash

Sale of another citrus ranch today brought total sales of citrus property in Orange county during the past eight days up to $361,750.

The latest deal resulted in transfer of ownership of a fraction more than 18 acres of land containing 15 acres of oranges, from Walter Vandermaast, prominent local clothier, to E. R. Merriweather, well-known Orange citrus grower.

Vandermaast sold the property to Merriweather for $53,750. It was a cash deal. The Vandermaast property is located on North Main street just outside the city limits where the Pacific Electric tracks turn off Main street.

10,000 BOX CROP

The trees are better than double planted, there being about 2000 trees on the property. Most of the trees are six years old, but some are seven and eight. There is an estimated 10,000 box crop on the trees, an exceptionally heavy crop.

Besides the citrus property, the deal involved considerable frontage on Main street, where several businesses are operated. The purchaser already owns considerable acreage in citrus property in Orange.

The boom in citrus ranch sales started last week when a deal involving a total of $228,000 was completed. The deal concerned the F. D. Plavan property, including orange and walnut land. Purchasers included Dr. Paul Esslinger of Capistrano, Oscar Rosenbaum, pioneer Capistrano rancher, and Guy Williams, prominent Capistrano rancher.

OTHER DEALS

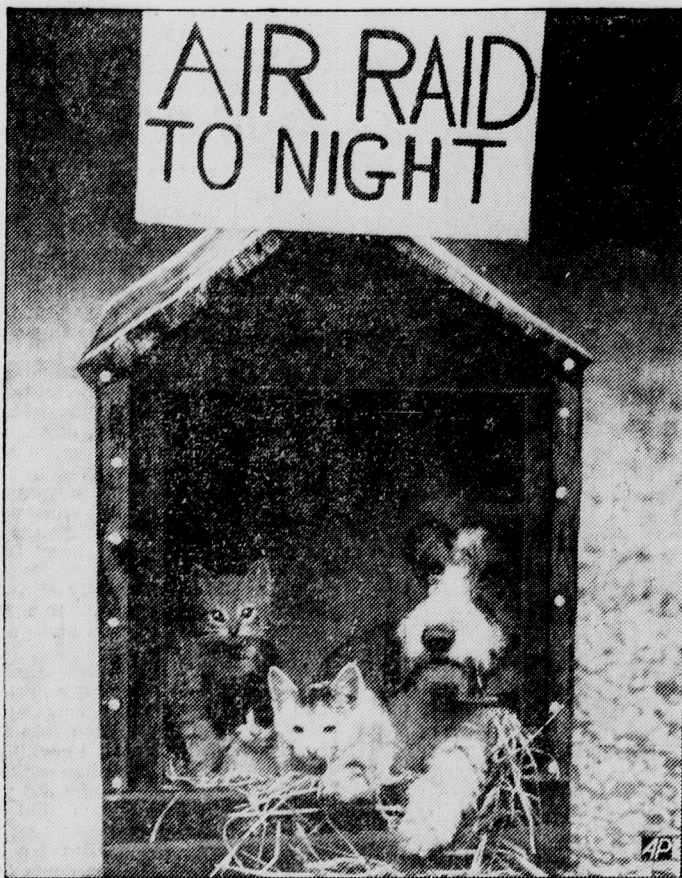

When details of the deal were ironed out, Plavan himself kept 46 acres of the valencia land. Dr. Esslinger bought 10 acres of valencias, Rosenbaum 10 acres of valencias and 21 acres of walnuts, and Williams 21 acres of walnuts.

This week Tubach and Cook, local realtors, sold two ranches for a total of $80,000. In one of the deals ownership of the Cook Adams home place, including 12 acres of valencias, passed to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunlap, Portlands Ore. In the other deal the realtors represented both sellers and purchasers. C. L. Spencer purchased the 13.38 acres of valencias comprising the Frank McCarter place.

A CURB FOR LOVE

City commissioners heeded the Rev. Robert Bromley's request for a restricted parking zone in front of his parsonage. He pleaded "thoughtless motorists have no right to leave their cars in a place needed by nervous young men and their sweethearts."

The city charged the Rev. Mr. Bromley $5, Mayor F. A. Longaker saying, "One marriage should cover the cost, with all the rest 'gravy'."

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN

CHICAGO.—Three years ago a large brass sign bearing the words, "The President," was stolen from the door of President Robert M. Hutchins' office at the University of Chicago.

The sign is back in place again. It was contained in a package which an unidentified young man handed to a university switchboard operator with the comment: "This turned up at a party."

Handbill Charges Are Dismissed

Two Santa Ana daily newspapers and a drug store were free today of charges they violated the city's anti-handbill ordinance.

Cases against T. R. Alvord, assistant business manager of The Journal; Jack Hanna, business manager of The Register, and Meredith Boland, manager of the Sontag Drug store, were dismissed yesterday by City Judge John G. Mitchell on motion of City Attorney L. W. Blodgett.

The three executives were arrested in June after Police Chief Floyd Howard announced the handbill ordinance would be enforced.

Refuse Veterans' Tax Cancellation

Request of the state Veterans' Welfare board for cancellation of taxes on property held by the board was refused last night by the city council.

The action was without precedent, it having been the custom of the city to cancel these taxes in the past.

Explaining the position the city now is assuming, Councilman William Penn said that the board did not own the property when the taxes were levied, that cancellation does not help the veteran and that the state of California should pay the taxes to the city anyway.

Reapprove Creek Park Project

Reapproval of the Santiago park project, being carried on under a Works Progress Administration project, was voted last night by the city council.

KIWANIANS HEAR OF NEW T.B. CURE

Sex Hormones May Be Effective Treatment

"Recent experiments on animals, if confirmed, suggest the possibility that the sex hormones may be used as an adjunct in the treatment of human tuberculosis." This was what Dr. Merrill W. Hollingsworth, local physician, told members of the Kiwanis club yesterday. Not only is there a possibility that hormones may be an adjunct to the treatment of tuberculosis, Dr. Hollingsworth pointed out, but sex hormones may be used for other ailments.

Work with sex hormones is still in an experimental stage, Dr. Hollingsworth said. It has only been in the last one and a half years that considerable experimentation has been conducted, he said. Dr. Hollingsworth also stated that "Recent work indicates considerable hope in the treatment of homosexuality and certain types of sex perversions."

In this respect, Dr. Hollingsworth expressed the belief to The Journal that "in the future some of these cases which go through the courts will be first submitted to medical investigation and treatment instead of being sent to the penitentiary."

Street Plan Still On Schedule

Assurance that the city of Santa Ana does not plan to abandon property between Sixth and Eighth on Olive street for street purposes was expressed in a resolution adopted by the city council last night.

The resolution was offered by City Attorney L. W. Blodgett, who said that J. W. Sackman, owner of property involved in the street plans, wanted the council to give him official assurance that the city is not abandoning plans to open the strip of land and use it for a street.

The strip of land now is being used as a playground, it was pointed out by Councilman Ernest H. Layton.

Wahlberg. The bulletin, No. 556 in the experiment station series, gives the results of tests made in many parts of the state and is available at the farm advisor's office here.

The bulletin places the soils of the state in six grades and describes each grade and its location generally.

Defer Welfare Work Conference

Social workers and welfare officials from eight southern counties probably will meet here next month, Welfare Director Jack Snow said today, instead of Friday and Saturday, as had been planned.

Snow received word today from Mrs. Florence L. Turner, director of the state department of social welfare, who had arranged the meeting, that the conference had been postponed. Indications are, he said, that the conference will be held in September after the new state aid laws go into effect.

All net proceeds will be used for welfare work of the auxiliary. Adults will be charged 40 cents admission and children 10 cents.

Council Accepts City Valuation

The city council last night officially accepted figures on the assessed valuation of the city of Santa Ana as provided in a report submitted by County Auditor W. T. Lambert.

Valuation of the city on the taxable valuation, excepting intangibles, was set at $24,309,100.

However, the council again delayed action on final setting of the tax rate. The rate was set at $1.59 per $100 in an ordinance given first reading about two weeks ago. The ordinance must be given second and final reading before the tax rate is set officially.

The rate will be set at a special meeting of the council to be held next Monday night.

Nerves Are an Asset If You Control Them

Ward Off Fits of Irritability
Are you high-strung? You're lucky. For if you can prevent nervous outbursts, you've a vivid charm that stolid people lack.

But woe if you repress "nerves." Irritability, sleeplessness, fatigue, even headaches, vertigo, nervous indigestion—overwhelm you, result in bitter breaks with family and friends.

Release your nervous energies naturally instead of bottling them up. Pour them into some interesting activity—swimming, dancing, hiking.

If nerves are really overstrained, the rest cure is the best cure. To get the full benefit of rest, learn how to relax, how to gradually let yourself go limp from ears and heels. Get as much real sunshine as possible. A little extra now to carry you over the dark winter months.

A well-known physician tells you causes and cures for "nerves" in our 32-page booklet. Need of calcium and other minerals in the diet. Effects of coffee, tea, alcohol. A well-balanced diet.

Send 10c for your copy of Overcoming "Nerves" and Every-Day Health Problems to The Santa Ana Journal Home Service, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Color Touches Will Add Enchantment

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

AP Feature Service Writer
Point up your meals these languid days of waning summer with some colorful dishes.

The increasingly popular fruit platters and refrigerator desserts offer endless possibilities for combining foods that are harmonious in taste and color.

Top a generous plate of diced pineapple, sliced oranges, peaches or apricots and seedless grapes with a few red raspberries and blueberries. Add a dash of lemon juice and just the right amount of your favorite salad dressing.

ASPARAGUS LUNCHEON PLATE

(Serves Six)
1 package salad gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup cold water
1 teaspoon scraped onion
2 teaspoons vinegar
6 bunches cooked green asparagus (4 or 5 stalks in a bunch)
1 pint cream
6 hard-boiled eggs, cut in quarters

3 tomatoes, cut in eighths
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add salt, cold water, onion and vinegar. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Arrange asparagus in bunches in shallow pan, about one inch apart, and place 2 strips of pimiento over each bunch. Pour thickened gelatin over the asparagus to cover. Chill until firm.

Cut around each bunch of asparagus into oblongs and serve each portion on lettuce. Alternate hard-boiled egg and tomato around asparagus and garnish with mayonnaise.

RAINBOWS WITH MELONS
Dig a little hole in the center of a fruit plate and insert a mound of cottage or cream cheese. Arrange thin slices of honeydew, cantaloupe and watermelon in rainbow effect.

For a red-and-green salad, stuff ripe tomatoes with diced cucumbers, artichoke hearts, green beans, peas or chopped green peppers. (Whole cooked beets may be used in place of the tomatoes.) Serve salad greens and top with dressing.

Try filling a jellied tomato ring with crab, shrimp, salmon or chicken salad. Garnish it with cucumber pickle rings, artichoke hearts (marinated in French dressing) and ripe olives. Outline the plate with cream.

CALIFLOWER SURROUNDED
Use a small cauliflower in the center of a small vegetable platter and surround it with a ring of diced carrots which in turn have been outlined with buttered beets. Parsley, cress, radish "roses," or celery "curls" will complete the picture.

Serve a jellied Roquefort cheese ring on croutons or fill it with assorted fresh fruits blended with salad dressing or mayonnaise. Top it with a sprig of mint.

Surround a cheese soufflé with creamed mushrooms and buttered broccoli for luncheon.

Fill a pea or carrot ring with creamed eggs. Pour creamed peas over an egg or tomato soufflé.

NEW YORK.—Shoulders are coming out from under evening frocks after an episode of gowns of the high-cut, shirtmaker type. In the sudden swing to décolletage, thin shoulder straps present an opportunity for low backless.

Mary Stoddard Relative Trouble Causes Unhappiness, Upsets Regular Family Routine

Relative trouble? How may it be overcome without hurting anyone's feelings? We realize that it is much nicer to have happy family relations, but if the aggressive, out-of-line members continue to impose, they needs must be stepped upon. If an outsider should enter your home and continually inconvenience you, you'd politely assert your rights.

When relatives, such as are described in the following letter, impose as they do on their kinkfolk, they deserve to be put in the class of the outsider. You can't be thin-skinned when dominating relatives are concerned unless you expect to have your toes continually stepped upon.

Dear Miss Stoddard: Can you please help me solve a difficult problem so as not to hurt anyone's feelings? I am a business woman, support my child and self.

Here is the difficulty: My folks come and "visit" with me too much during my business hours and also on my time. They never wait for an invitation, but come any old time they feel like it. And I feel they are imposing on my good nature.

Why can't they understand? I would appreciate them more if they would wait and come when I can entertain them. I sit down and have a nice visit and spend a nice family evening together.

One evening a week, anyway, I like to have to myself and enjoy a book or the radio. I can't! I just get settled and here they come!

We are a small family and devoted to one another. But I'm afraid I'll have to leave and go to another city.

What shall I do? How shall I go about telling them my system and disposing of them? I wish they would come in, sit down and wait for me to tell them.

This isn't new, they've always done this; that's why I can't solve my own difficulty. What shall I do so as not to cause hard feelings?

Have you ever tried the "lock-out system"? I know of another widow who is similarly situated and she became so tired of being constantly "on parade" before inquisitive relatives and in-laws and having her apartment invaded by "parking places" that she simply locked her door when she came home from work and left it locked and didn't answer the bell.

When the daily visiting relatives called her in alarm, she simply told them that she was worn out and must rest for several months, after work.

She went a bit further and added, "It's the doctor's strict orders," and added sweetly, "I'll let you know what evening I can have you over."

This plan eventually worked out happily in her case. It might in yours, too. In another instance, a working wife "turned the tables" and beat the relatives at their own game by going over to their homes and acting just as they had in hers.

In your particular case, I believe it is pure thoughtlessness on the part of your relatives and that if you should talk to them kindly, right straight from your heart, explaining how you feel, they would be more than glad to respect your wishes and your time.

LIKES DEEP BLUE

PARIS. (AP) — Princess Karam of Kapurthala, the young Indian beauty, has selected deep blue as one of her favorite summer shades. Among her day frocks is a Mainbocher dress of navy blue georgette with an all-over design of navy Valenciennes lace.

The United States exported 6,702,000 bales of cotton in 1936.

Lola Larkin, English star in a Broadway show, is urged by Winfield Balcom to marry him. His father does not approve and retains a clever woman lawyer, Martha Carter, to prevent this seeming messianic. Norman Standish, Englishman, brings his bride, Cora, from abroad and promptly begins meeting Lola in secret. Cora discovers this and goes to her best friend, this same Martha Carter, and retains her to bribe Lola to keep away from her husband. Cora won't listen to Martha. Cora gets her husband to go to Hollywood with her. Delectable, hired by Martha for the Balcom case, overhears Lola and Winfield planning to spend the summer on a private island off the Maine coast.

CHAPTER XXII
JOHN, head of the detective agency, found his agent's report on his desk when he arrived at his office next morning. He promptly sent a copy by messenger to Martha's office.

Martha studied it carefully. If she had known the address of Cora Standish she would have put in a long-distance call for her and told her that her worries were evidently over. She would, however, have to wait until she heard from Cora.

She decided to let Senator Balcom see this report alone, thereby avoiding further menace to his wife's nervousness.

He scowled mightily as he went over the detective's report.

"What do you make of it, Miss Carter?" he asked.

"It may be that they plan to elope and spend their honeymoon there."

"But, dash it all, Miss Carter, you had an idea the Larkin girl was more interested in some married man than in Winfield."

"She seemed to be, senator, but it happens that this man has gone to Hollywood. Perhaps he has come to his senses."

Senator Balcom stared at Martha and said, "I wonder if they are really considering getting married."

Martha waited.

"Of course, if he doesn't intend to—well, some wise old head once said that youth must have its fling."

The senator, to Martha's combined amazement and amusement, seemed to hope his son didn't include matrimony in his plans.

"There isn't a scrap of evidence that Miss Larkin has lived any other than a discreet and blameless life," Martha interposed, "at least while in New York. That means that if she went to this island with your son, it would be his bride."

"I am afraid so," Senator Balcom shook his head. "Still, there may be some report from England that will make Winfield change his mind."

"We'll have to wait. By the way, have you seen her?"

"No. Don't want to. I admit my curiosity led me to look at her photographs in the theater lobby."

"At least, your son knows feminine beauty."

"Oh yes. But you know, in her profession it is half make-up and costume."

"Not with Miss Larkin. I still insist that you see her and tell her what she will make your son lose if she marries him."

"I may have to. But I'll say this—if she isn't a money-grubber, and if she thinks she is in love with a man, that won't matter."

Daintiness Real Secret Of Beauty

By JACQUELINE HUNT

It is fortunate for all of us ordinary mortals that real attractiveness depends more on daintiness than on perfect features. That is why the girl who knows how to dress so her clothes always look fresh, who stays cool and crisp even on a wilting day, with her hair smooth and shining and her hands daintily groomed, so often wins out over her prettier sister whose hair and clothes always seem to need brushing, whose gloves aren't as spotless as they might be and whose stockings are apt to twist and wrinkle out of place.

White collars and cuffs must always be immaculate, so sew snaps on them for frequent changes. The minute they look soiled, remove them and squeeze out of soapsuds. Then rinse carefully and roll up in a towel a few minutes before ironing.

To save time, effort and cleaners' bills, use dress shields and an anti-perspirant regularly. You really should use them both if you want to be certain that your frocks are kept free from underarm stains and telltale odor.

For details to watch when you are striving to be dainty are moist hands and feet. Many women are troubled with excess perspiration of the feet. Use a good non-perspirant for this. One of the cream preparations is especially good, as it is easy to use and dries rapidly. Be sure to rinse the hands or feet after using it.

Be careful to get stockings that really fit your leg so there is no ugly wrinkling at the ankle. Make it a practice to check up on the back-seams to be sure they are perfectly straight before you go out. Keep your hair polished fresh, your hair well-brushed and any stray ends that don't stay curled, tucked up and pinned out of sight. Keep your gloves spotless and brush your shoulders when you have finished dressing. If you have done all of these things, then you can face the world with confidence.

TAILORED IN TWEEDS

POWELL, RAINER AT WALKER'S

In a film that affords contrast with their former roles, William Powell and Louise Rainer achieve new credit in "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which opens today at the Walker's new theater, along with the viril outdoor star, George O'Brien featured in "Hollywood Cowboy."

"The Emperor's Candlesticks," from the novel by Baroness Orczy, describes the adventures of two continental secret agents, each of whom is suspicious of the other. Death is close on their heels many times but they outwit it and eventually romance brings them together.

Powell and Miss Rainer are masters of restraint. The Viennese star, who has been in America only two years, is thoroughly at home in the Continental atmosphere of the picture, and Powell, the cosmopolitan always, is delightfully non-alien wherever destiny takes him.

The supporting cast features Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan, Henry Stephenson, Bernadene Hayes, Donald Kirk, Douglas Dumbrille, Barnett Parker, Bert Roach, Charles Waldron, and E. Clive.

"Hollywood Cowboy" opens with George O'Brien as a star of western films who is on location in Wyoming. Deciding to take a vacation with a writer friend, the pair packed into the cow country and instead of the expected relaxation, they encounter more adventures than could be found in the movie hero's picture.

This combination of gay romantic and outdoor action is rounded out with a Clyde McCoy musical and a newsreel.

Walker's theater is presenting continuous performances daily starting at 2 p. m., and on Saturdays and Sundays at 1 p. m.

Experiment With Dressing Up Food

By JUDITH WILSON

Do you have difficulty persuading your children to eat the kinds of food that are best for them? They sometimes leave food they didn't want to eat. Perhaps the fault is partly yours. Have them try dressing up the food they ordinarily do not care for or combining it with something they do like.

SPINACH WITH DUMPLINGS

Combine 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 egg yolk, one by one, stirring to make a creamy mixture. Add 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup cottage cheese pressed through a sieve, ½ cup flour and ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs. Fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff. Form into medium sized dumplings and drop into rapidly boiling salted water. Cover tightly and cook 10 minutes. Remove with a strainer or slotted spoon. Arrange around cooked spinach and serve with a tasty, well-seasoned cream sauce to which chopped broiled bacon has been added. Garnish with strips of pimiento and a sprinkling of paprika for color and flavor.

CHEESE-SALMON SALAD

Combine 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 cup flaked red salmon, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped sweet pickles, salt and pepper to taste and ½ cup well seasoned mayonnaise to bind the ingredients together. Chill thoroughly before serving on crisp lettuce leaves. Tuna fish may be substituted for the salmon. Serve with crisp, salty crackers.

FRUIT SALAD, CHEESE RING

Soften 2 tablespoons plain gelatin in ½ cup cold water and dissolve over hot water. Beat into 2 pounds cottage cheese that has been forced through a potato ricer. Pack into a greased ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce leaves and fill the center with orange sections, wedges of fresh pineapple, slices of pitted red cherries and melon balls—or use your own favorite recipe for a fruit salad. Serve with a tart mayonnaise or French dressing made with fruit juice.

ROSES FOR DECORATION

PARIS.—The Marquise de Lambertye and Madame Simon Rolo have ordered the same black crepe evening dress from Patou. It is a sheath gown designed with narrow panels the edges of which are shaped like tulips. Large pink roses are posed on one shoulder.

Thirteen per cent of all forest fires are caused by lightning.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

— By — ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—Some massive omnipresent diplomat ought to take charge at Hollywood previews of fan relations with the film stars.

The previewing studio invariably lights up the sky and turns on the ballyhoo, attracting huge crowds of fans and autograph hunters, the studio invariably employs policemen.

And the fans come, as they would to any circus, and if they get treated the way Barbara Stanwyck was the other evening when a policeman mistook her for a fan, something ought to be done.

IT'S ALWAYS A REPETITION. Miss Stanwyck thinks so, having had the novel experience of being treated like a fan. The experience included getting her arm twisted by the officer in his attempt to "protect" Robert Taylor, Miss Stanwyck's escort. Taylor, getting the usual fan rush as they entered the theater, had been swept away from Barbara. Later, with studio aides, he rushed to the rescue.

"Something," said Barbara next day, rubbing a bruised arm, "ought to be arranged about these things, both for the players and for the fans."

Hollywood thinks so, too, but the thing goes on. I've seen many a fan-rush at previews, with the cops stepping in, not always but sometimes as roughly as the fellow who stopped Stanwyck. Maybe, now that it's happened to a movie star, some more reasonable means of keeping order will be found.

Some of the fans, of course, bring it on themselves. They're the ones who think being a fan gives them the privilege of tearing at an actor's clothes, of breaking through restraining ropes—put there for the theater's regular customers as well as for the stars—and generally making themselves a nuisance.

As things are, however, the now popular previews stand a good chance of making enemies for the stars who appear, to make new fans.

HOW BARBARA SEES IT. The Stanwyck attitude toward fans and autograph hunters is typical, and I think reasonable: "I'm terribly flattered when anyone asks for my autograph," she says, "and I'm glad to give mine. I don't mean that I'm asked too often—usually I can come and go anywhere without being noticed. But there are times when it's impossible to stay in one place and keep on giving them. I still remember the time some friends were waiting for me, and I was late, and a girl stopped me for an autograph. When you sign one you have to sign six or the others think you're high-hat. So I explained I was late, and asked the girl please to give me another chair, but she was furious—said she'd never see any more of my pictures! But I don't think that many fans are so unreasonable."

Universal is reproducing the reception hall and library of Stokowski's real home for use in "100 Men and a Girl," in which he plays himself. . . . The studio was afraid fans would think a studio-created home was not the type. . . . Unless all the gossips are wrong, Helen Mack will be the next screenland divorcee. . . . The Hugh Herbert picture I'm waiting for is the one he writes himself. . . . He's written it, too, but probably won't make it for Warner's. . . . Mary Dees, the late Jean Harlow's star, won't be the first to pinch-hit for a star. . . . It's Sylvia Sydney's stand-in who does the fade-out shot in "Dead End."

Evading questioners, the couple soon returned to the Fenwick Point summer home of Miss Hepburn's parents where they have been staying since early this month.

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Katharine Hepburn and Howard Hughes, millionaire aviator and film producer, emerged briefly from their seclusion at an old Seabrook shore resort to visit this port where they were reported to have inspected the late George F. Baker's yacht.

Hughes put his powerful amphibian down into New London Point summer home of Miss Hepburn's parents where they have been staying since early this month.

HANGING GARDENS OF BABYLON

Strange as it seems, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon did not hang. They grew in terraces, but due to a twisted translation of the Latin "pensilis," meaning balcony, the Second Wonder of the World has its English misnomer.

As nearly as can be determined, the Hanging Gardens consisted of balconies or terraces, one above the other, rising like a giant stairway to a height of 350 feet. Each "step" had a cavity in which plants, flowering shrubs and even fruit-bearing trees were raised. Underneath each "step" were luxurious apartments, protected from irrigation water for the gardens by thick sheets of lead. The gardens were irrigated with hydraulic pumps which raised water to a reservoir on the top terrace.

For some centuries the history and details of the Hanging Gardens were veiled in legend and doubt, but recent excavations have done much to bring facts regarding them to light.

Historically accepted as the motive behind the construction of the Hanging Gardens is a young girl's homesickness. The girl was Amytis, a Persian, who married Nebuchadnezzar and came to live with him in his Babylonian empire. Wearied by the level plains of her adopted country, she longed for the hilly country of her native land. Her adoring husband thereupon had the gardens built to soothe her.
